21、 My Views on Study English From Native Speakers

Recently, a growing number of people think it is necessary for primary students to learn English from native speakers, because they are able to form a favourable language habit. However, as far as I am concerned, I am opposed to this view. Reasons are as following:

To begin with, students cannot understand a new language at the early stage they get access to it. Thus it is necessary for teachers to know both Chinese and English, but most native speakers only speak first language, which does not benefit students English study. What's more, it is well known to us all that a good way to improve students oral English is to create an English-speaking atmosphere, which cannot comes true only depends on the foreign language teacher.

Above all, I disagree to hire foreign language teachers to teach in primary school. I am firmly in favor of teaching by Chinese teachers, who can speak English.
